

The artwork is a dense, multi-layered collage. It features a central face with large, expressive eyes and a wide, open mouth. The face is rendered in a mix of colors, including greens, yellows, and pinks, with thick black outlines. The background is a complex composition of various colors and textures, including reds, blues, and purples, with some areas appearing to be made of torn paper or fabric. The overall style is highly expressive and abstract.
